

JOB OPPORTUNITY

Mediagrif is currently seeking to fill the position of:

Android Mobile Application Developer

Location: Longueuil, QC

Mediagrif is a global leader in e-business networks development and operations and ranks among the top 25 Canadian software companies. In order to fulfill its mission, providing innovative e-commerce solutions to various companies, Mediagrif relies on the constant innovation of its employees.

Mediagrif operates various networks, including industry leaders such as Jobboom, LesPAC, PowerSource Online, The Broker Forum, MERX, InterTrade, Carrus, BidNet, SourceSuite and ASC.

Reporting to the Development Team Leader, the Android Mobile Application Developer will be responsible to develop and improve Mediagrif's mobile applications for consumers and businesses.

Main responsibilities:

- Develop mobile applications;
- Produce technical analyzes in collaboration with architects and functional analysts;
- Proposed technological solutions according to customer needs;
- Suggest mobile approaches for applications;
- Estimate the work to be done;
- Support deployment of mobile applications;
- Participate in the analysis, development and testing of applications;
- Participate in the support and evolution of existing applications;
- Support other Android mobile programmers.

Experience:

- Essential: At least 2 years of native Android development experience;
- Essential: Have already published at least one application on the PlayStore;
- Bachelor's degree or diploma of college studies in software development, or in any other relevant program;
- Experience in development with Android Java / SDK;
- Be autonomous and proactive in proposing solutions;
- Be able to make ergonomic recommendations;
- Experience with interaction with web services (eg REST, SOAP, etc.);
- Experience in the development of unit tests;
- Passionate about new technologies and especially the mobile world.

Remuneration and working conditions:

- Competitive salary;
- Work week of 37.5 hours;
- Group Insurance upon hiring;
- Access to a share purchase plan with employer participation;
- Pleasant working environment.

If you are interested in the challenge, please submit your resume to: careers@mediagrif.com
Only selected candidates will be contacted, but we thank you for your interest in the company.